

WOW (Worldwide Network of Women)

Based in Amsterdam, Netherlands with a global network of events in more than seven countries

WOW Dinner Partners with Dublin Tech Summit for Inspirational Event

Featured speaker: Silicon Valley entrepreneur and multi-culturalist

Dublin, Ireland, 29 March, 2019 / -- The WOW \(Worldwide Network of Women\) Dinner in partnership with the Dublin Tech Summit, is hosting a kick off event to the conference week on April 10, 2019 in the Ballsbridge Hotel, beginning at 6:30 pm. Featured speaker for the evening is Jeff Burton, a serial entrepreneur, builder of global enterprises, and owner of San Francisco-based Woodside Creek Ventures.

The WOW Dinner is part of an inspirational global series of networking events aimed at promoting diversity and the empowerment of women in tech and related industries. The event provides attendees an opportunity to network with other like-minded women and men, as well as the Dublin Tech Summit speakers.

At each WOW Dinner, women and men come together to learn and be inspired by those in attendance, as well as the speakers behind the podium. It routinely draws an international crowd of tech enthusiasts who understand the value diversity in our teams and companies brings not just to the business world, but to larger society.

“The WOW Dinner brings together people from all over the tech and tech related industries to discuss current issues, how we’re currently perceiving those issues, and what upcoming trends, technology and developments in the tech community are changing our future for the better,” said Isabel van der Kolk, founder of The WOW Dinner international series. “It does not matter where WOW is in the world, a human thread seems to bind us together to try and overcome challenges facing women and people of diversity. We want to show together is the only way to build better and more positive outcomes. These are the types of themes the WOW Dinner highlights at our events.”

As part of our mission to inspire and empower future generations, students from the Dublin Business School will also be in attendance as our guests. Event space is limited, so please follow this site link to order tickets.

Quote:

Jeff Burton: “[I’m a] Believer that technology and the unifying strength of multicultural exchange in the pursuit of problem solving and business growth can lead to profound economic, social, and global benefit.”

About The WOW Dinner

The WOW Dinner is a global organization that strives to create equal opportunities for women and other

WOW (Worldwide Network of Women)

Based in Amsterdam, Netherlands with a global network of events in more than seven countries marginalized groups. We aim to provide opportunities and a worldwide network for women in tech, marketing, business and emerging industries.

The WOW Dinner creates events that provide individuals an opportunity to network in a casual and welcoming environment. The organization also aims to provide a platform for students through university breakfasts, where they can glean inspiration from our speakers, meet employers and develop business relationships.

As part of our series of events around the globe in 2019, the WOW Dinner will also be in Toronto, Ontario, Canada on May 21st, and coincide with the COLLISION Conference. Click this link to learn more about the upcoming Toronto event.

To stay updated on our events subscribe <https://thewowdinner.wixsite.com/thewow/copy-of-contact>

Press for Dublin:

Ms. Susan Sweeney

Press for Canada:

Ms. Maïke Althaus

Newhaus Communications

maike@newhauscommunications.com

+1 647 984 0618

www.newhauscommunications.com